

Jorge Uxó has a Ph.D in economics (Complutense University of Madrid) and is Associate Professor at the University of Castilla-La Mancha (Spain). His main research interests are Macroeconomics and Economic Policy in the EMU, and Post Keynesian Economics. He has published articles on the crisis in academic journals, especially about the possibility of applying alternative fiscal policies in the EMU, the role played by the ECB or the effects of internal devaluation on Spain. He has edited the book entitled Post-Keynesian views of the economic crisis and its remedies and he is co-author of Fracturas y crisis en Europa. He is a member of the Podemos' economic team.